

Grow Healthy: Raising Food-Smart Kids Childhood Obesity Conference

According to the Centers for Disease Control, childhood obesity rates have tripled from just a generation ago. Stone and Taney counties are following this trend, with obesity rates higher than the national rates.

Children will only learn about nutrition if we teach it to them.

Join us! Professional chefs, food service staff, culinary students and others interested in working to reduce the childhood obesity epidemic are invited to attend.

Wednesday, October 28, 2015 ~ 10 am - 3 pm ~ College of the Ozarks' Keeter Center

Nutrition experts will explain the extent of the problem and how it can be reversed. Learn how to help kids grow up healthy through innovative nutritional and culinary approaches presented by Chef Rob Corliss.

There is no fee for this conference due to a grant from the Skaggs Foundation. Lunch will be provided.

Registration is required and due by October 9, 2015.
